TOP: The telc Online Placement Test

In the fields of international business and science, language skills are of great importance. Today, companies and higher education institutions need a tool for timely and objective language assessment. Such tools are vital for:

- reliable evaluation of applicants,
- determining in-house continuing education needs,
- the organisation of homogeneous language classes.

Language skills can be quickly, reliably and easily assessed and evaluated using telc's Online Placement test.

telc – language tests has taken technical and organisational precautions to make sure that all regulations on data protection are strictly adhered to.

The Test at a Glance

- Multilingual. Currently available in English, German, and Spanish
- State of the art. Using scientific methodology in line with CEFR standards
- Service-oriented. Fully trained staff available for consultation and technical support
- Modular. Optional Speaking and Writing modules available
- Convenient. Easy to use, with no special software requirements
- Flexible. Can be conducted whenever you choose; results are available immediately upon completion
- Reasonably priced. Premium quality at a low cost

The Test Modules

The test includes an online module as well as optional oral and written modules. The online module provides a valid assessment of listening and reading competence, along with vocabulary and grammar skills. The oral and written modules can be added upon request.

The test takers' language competence is rated according to the levels A1 to C2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR), and the result is displayed immediately after test completion.

A trial version of the test is available at www.telc.net/placement.

How it Works

telc provides the necessary log-in data. The online module can be administered anytime, without the need for further scheduling.

Sample items will help participants familiarise themselves with the testing platform and types of questions to expect. They will receive their results immediately after completing the test. Including the time needed for sample items, the test will take a maximum of 45 minutes.

Participants' results can be conveniently managed and archived via the online platform. Specific software is not required. A hotline is available to assist with technical issues.

From Assessment to Certificate

The telc Online Placement Test complements telc's assortment of products. From language skill assessments that are useful for employee selection or language class formation, to qualified language certificates awarded at the end of a class or continuing education program – companies, universities, and language class providers will find the right product for their portfolios with telc – language tests.

telc's Expertise

For almost 50 years, the non-profit telc gGmbH has been developing valid language examinations under the label telc – language tests, giving participants a reliable means of proving their language skills. telc language certificates confirm the qualified completion of language classes and are internationally recognised by government agencies, companies, and institutions of higher education, for instance to prove German language skills for citizenship applications.

telc is a full member of  ALTE, the Association of Language Testers in Europe.
