WELCOME

Dear guests at the telc house,

Would you like to use our conference rooms? –
You are very welcome!

The concept of our company is based on encounters and exchange. We have created bright, open rooms with space for concentrated work as well as for informal discussions, not only for our telc employees but also for our guests. As a provider of language learning and examinations, facilitating communication is written into our DNA.

Cool Nature is the design principle of the telc building. Modern, contemporary, built with high-quality regional building materials. We offer you an environment that we have carefully planned down to the last detail, not an off-the-peg office building. Our employees will welcome you with the same commitment.

Sustainability is not just a buzzword for us, but also a central principle of our building. From the underground ice energy storage system to the green roof with photovoltaics, we adhere to the highest standards.

For us, this also includes the quality of our cuisine. Our chefs prepare fresh meals using regional ingredients. Healthy food at a reasonable price, beautifully presented and served in the relaxed atmosphere of our company restaurant or open-air terrace – work-life balance comes naturally every lunchtime.

We look forward to welcoming you to the telc house.

Yours

Jürgen Keicher
